GUTHRIE IS ELECTED.

Anti-Republican Candidate Is Chosen Mayor of Pittsburgh.

LARGE VOTE POLLED

Campaign One of the Most Bitter Ever Known in That City and the Fair Sex Took a Decided Interest.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21.—After one of the most bitterly fought municipal campaigns, in which was cast the greatest vote ever cast in this city, George W. Guthrie, mayoralty candidate of the Citizens' party, the Democratic party and the Civic league, defeated his opponent, Alexander M. Jenkinson, by a majority of 6,000.

The campaign throughout has been one of vituperation and recrimination, and charges of crookedness emanated from both sides almost hourly. Wholesale arrests were made during the last days of the campaign for repeating and colonizing, lodging houses were raided and men carrying illegal tax receipts were hustled to the police stations. The day was characterized by many fights at polling places, and in two districts the elections boards were hauled into court charged with refusing to allow negroes to vote.

George B. Logan, the candidate for mayor of the Good Government party in Allegheny, was defeated by Charles F. Kirschtner, Republican. Kirschtner's majority is estimated at 4,000.

The feature of the campaign in this city was the part taken in it by women. Throughout the entire day they held meetings of prayer for the election of Guthrie, and carried sandwiches and coffee to the workers at the polls, while brass bands played patriotic and popular airs in the neighborhood of the polling places.

NO HOMESTEAD SELLING.

Other Lands Cannot Be Disposed of Without Secretary's Consent.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The senate committee on Indian affairs agreed tentatively on amendments to the house bill, winding up the affairs of the five civilized tribes commission. The amendments adopted prohibited full-blooded Indians from selling their homesteads, and require them to obtain the consent of the secretary of the interior to sell other lands.

Tribal members other than full bloods are required to obtain like consent to sell their homesteads, but all restrictions are removed from their disposing of surplus lands. Coal lands must be appraised by two appraisers to be appointed by the secretary of the interior, with the approval of the president. Sales may be made under sealed bids, or by public auction, but all are to be subject to conditions to be prescribed by the interior department. The royalty of 8 cents a ton on the output of leased coal lands will continue during the life of the leases.

STATEMENT DENIED.

Indictments Are at This Time Pending in Court.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The recently published statement emanating from the Indian department that the department of justice was to order indictments in the Indian Territory to be nolle prossed, and was prevented from so doing by the direction of the president is, by authority of the president, denied. The indictments are now pending in court, and the district attorney, recently appointed has been instructed to investigate thoroughly the evidence upon which they depend, and to take such action as in his judgment justice requires.

CAUSED CONSTERNATION.

Woman Screamed She Had Met Husband Dead Thirteen Years.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Annie McGreevy caused consternation in the court room of Justice Callahan when she rushed in screaming at the top of her voice that she had just met on the street her husband whom she had buried thirteen years ago.

"I just met him," she shouted. "I thought he was dead. I buried a man thirteen years ago, and I thought it was him. I want him back. He has $300 of my money."

When the woman became quiet enough for the voice of the justice to be heard, he suggested that she take out a writ of replevin for the $300, and this Mrs. McGreevy did.

"He told me that he had been living with another woman," she said, "and under the name of Thawls. The ideal living with another woman, and changing his name from Irish to Dutch. I'll fix him." And Mrs. McGreevy departed with her writ.

The fiction features of Holland's seem to grow better each month. The March issue contains a large number of excellent stories. Julia Truitt Bishop contributes "A Curved Glass Door" a tale of domestic comedy told in a style that is the author's own. "Judge Lynch and a Woman," a story with a western flavor, is by Will S. Gidley. "Carrie" is a patetic tale by Mary Elizabeth Daley, and in strong contrast is "The Resurrection of Lois Mason," by Maro Lewis. Lovers of the really gruesome will be fully satisfied with "The 'Hant' With the Red Scar," by F. E. Daniels, M. D. "Mack, of Kellum & Mack, Grocers," is a clever story of advertising, by Albert Lathrop Lawrence. Edgar White contributor "Decree of the Gods," and there are a number of other good stories and poems in this issue.

The cover "Meditation," is a striking effect of lithography in red and black. Frank P. Holland is making good his promise to give the South a really great magazine.

Col. John Temple Graves, candidate for United States senator, was removed from the position of editor of the Atlanta, Ga., News, because he persisted in using the column of the paper to himself. After one day of deposition he was restored, and all is well.
